Implementation issues including impact on your systems

To implement the changes in line with this modification proposal it would require extensive system changes and, therefore, we would require a minimum of 9 months.

Additional Information and Comments

GTC originally had a preference for iGT042 because it seemed more reasonable to instigate changes to the process for those Change of Supply instances affected by timescales only, as opposed to all supply point transfers. However, to apply systems to those flexible and non standard criteria would be considerably more complex for no particular benefit than that of iGT041.
